

Central Kansas Chapter of ARMA Spring Seminar March 9, 2010 at Century II Convention Center

Philip Droege

Director of the White House Office of Records Management, Washington, DC

Philip's presentation will focus on the unique challenges of managing presidential records: working with the White House staff, obligations under the Presidential Records Act and dealing with the upheaval of a Presidential transition.

Karen Shaw, CRM

Senior Records Analyst,
NARA, Central Plains Region

Wherever You're At - Start There; Search, Find and Manage Your Electronic Records

Karen will discuss NARA's approach to preserving and providing access to the almost unimaginably immense quantity of electronic records that government offices are producing. She will describe NARA's electronic records initiatives along with existing and emerging information products being developed to address their continued concern regarding the creation, use and management of eRecords and the associated metadata needed for search, retrieval, long-term access and life-cycle management.

Cost: Member $50; Non-members $75
