Re: News conference announcing new Internet mapping of Kansas registered offenders.

Tomorrow, Wednesday January 8th, 2003, at 1:00pm, the Kansas Bureau of Investigation will host a news conference and demonstration of a new way for the citizens of Kansas to check on registered offenders near their homes, schools and day cares. Through the combined efforts of Attorney General Carla Stovall, KU's Data Access & Support Center, accessKansas, Rick Miller, Chief Information Technology Architect, and the KBI, citizens will be able to pull up over the Internet maps of their neighborhoods showing the locations of registered offenders. A demonstration of this new application will be given as well as remarks by the various agencies involved. This service is another eGovernment initiative for the state of Kansas.
