

“I chose to draw my picture the way it is because I thought all the kids missing in the clouds are like the dreams of people who are missing their children. On the ground the families are being reunited. The angel is spreading happiness to all the families on the ground. The rainbow is showing because the tears of the people in the clouds are like rain. After rain a rainbow appears.” Clay county, KS 5th grader